

MINDING YOUR MONEY

"If you don't mind your money, someone else will and then they will control your future!"

Patricia is a Passionate Master Coach in the following areas:

- Planning for divorce and other life transitions
- Helping entrepreneurs and individuals understand and navigate the money side of business / life
- Developing action plans to accomplish big and little goals like building a balanced money life or budgeting

You took a complex topic that intimidates people and presented it in such an easy to understand way. You have a gift for communicating these concepts and making it seem "so simple, even I can do that!"
